PROFILE

My title is Front End Developer, but I think 'Artist with a Keyboard' is a bit more fitting. Using Photoshop, Illustrator, and various web technologies, I love to build things both creative & functional. I've designed and developed 50+ websites in the past 3 years of my self-taught journey — one being for an aerospace engineering company! I'm currently seeking an opportunity to thrive within a small to medium sized team that shares my same passion for creative solutions and personal development.
